Swobbee is launching a network of e-bike battery swapping stations in NYC and Jersey, enabling delivery workers to deliver more by allowing them to swap rather than charge batteries at home. With Swobbee, delivery workers can earn up to 50% more per week.

Swobbee is looking for a former NYC delivery rider who speaks Spanish and English to help us connect with the community and recruit riders.

What You'll Do:

- » Build relationships with delivery workers and spread the word about Swobbee
- » Help riders sign up and start using our battery rental and swapping service
- » Represent Swobbee at meetups, rest spots, and online communities
- » Provide feedback from riders to help us improve our service

What We're Looking For:

- » Spanish & English fluency (other languages are a plus!)
- » Experience as a delivery worker in NYC – you know the hustle firsthand
- » A strong network in the delivery community
- » Friendly, outgoing, and motivated to help others
- » U.S. Work Authorization

Pay » Hourly wage + commission for every new user you bring on board

This is a great opportunity to earn extra money while helping fellow delivery workers get access to a game-changing service.
